

2024 PHDC Annual Housing Fair

The Closer Sponsorship $5,000

PHDC will host a housing fair to provide resources for current homeowners, first time home buyers, renters, landlords and others who are interested in learning more about homeownership, maintaining the home, development opportunities, and much more.

The housing fair will consist of over 20+ city-funded housing counseling agencies, other City of Philadelphia departments, mortgage lenders, realtors, insurance agents, and various home related retailers to interact with attendees and provide information about the programs and/or services they provide.

The goal of the housing fair is to heighten the awareness of Philadelphians of programs and services to help them create generational wealth through homeownership and live in healthy homes.
